LUCAN - Services for Marjorie Schmiesing, 81, of Lucan will be at 11 a.m. Wednesday at Good Shepherd Lutheran Church in Marshall with burial in the Johnsonville Township cemetery. Visitation will be from 4-7 p.m. today with prayer service at 6:30 at Sunset Funeral Home in Wabasso and visitation will continue one hour prior to the service on Wednesday, at the church. Sunset Funeral and Cremation Association of Echo and Wabasso are in charge of the arrangements.

Marjorie Eleanor Schmiesing died Saturday, Dec. 18, 2010, at Avera Marshall Regional Medical Center in Marshall.

Marjorie Eleanor Maas was born July 10, 1929, to Frank and Martha (Wandersee) Maas. She was baptized and confirmed at Trinity Lutheran Church, Johnsonville Township. Marjorie attended Walnut Grove schools and enjoyed cheerleading during her high school years. In May 1948, she graduated and on June 26th married the love of her life, Lowell Schmiesing. Together, they farmed and raised their family. She enjoyed cooking and baking and created fond memories of the delicious aroma of her homemade bread and her chocolate chip cookies. Marjorie also had a passion for flowers. She prided herself at having something blooming all spring, summer, and fall. Always curious about new hybrids, she'd usually find some new bulb or shrub or tree to plant every year.

Survivors include four children, James (and Rose Marie) of Lucan, Gail (and Larry) Murphy of Marshall, Daniel of Walnut Grove and Rodney of Lucan; 10 grandchildren and 21 great grandchildren; two sisters, Mildred Arends of Wabasso and Marcella Johnson of Shoreview and three brothers, Albert (and Olive) of San Antonio, Texas, Arthur (and Alice) of Walnut Grove and Edward (and Marian) of Montevideo.

Marjorie is preceded in death by her parents, husband, one brother, Erwin, and one sister, Ruth Tuttle.

Blessed be her memory.
